

Improve your skills with other students

Come and join our small classes and get plenty of practice speaking English! We have small group classes of no more than 8 students, so you will have many opportunities to improve your English conversation skills while making friends.

Registration Information:

Classes begin the third week of the quarter. Our classes last for 8 weeks and each session is 1 hour and 20 minutes.

You can add our classes online before classes begin. After classes begin, you can add by going to Student Services or by coming to the first class meeting during week 3 in ATC 304.

Please go to our website or give us a call at 864-5385 for more information. See the De Anza Schedule of Classes for a complete list of our offerings.

Listening & Speaking Center

ATC 304

Phone: (408) 864-5385

faculty.deanza.fhda.edu/iffmaryanne
Google "Welcome to LSC"

½ Unit Classes Begin Week 3

Practice your English listening and speaking skills with us!

ATC 304

Class Descriptions

ESL 210 Conversation Practice for ESL Learners

You will improve your English and understanding of American culture while discussing topics of interest in a small group. You will become more confident using English and will also gain an appreciation of the different cultures represented by your classmates.

Prerequisite: ESL 244

ESL 211 Listening in Context

You will listen to a recording or watch a film, and share your ideas about a variety of topics with your classmates. You may also work on your listening and conversation skills outside of class by conducting interviews on different topics.

Prerequisite: ESL 251

ESL 213 Vocabulary and Idioms in Context

Every week, we will focus on a different topic, which will give you a chance to expand your vocabulary through songs, stories, and dialogues. You will research the idioms and expressions Americans use in daily conversation and learn to recognize them more easily after taking ESL 213.

Prerequisite: ESL 244

ESL 216 Advanced Book Reading Club

This class emphasizes the development of vocabulary and critical thinking skills in a small group through the discussion and analysis of an extended reading. We will post the book selection on our website before classes begin.

Prerequisite: ESL 252

For more information, visit our website:
faculty.deanza.fhda.edu/iffmaryanne/

Check the De Anza Schedule of Classes for class meeting times.

ESL 223 Intermediate Level Book Club

In a small group, you will discuss short stories, an autobiography, or a short novel. Through oral and written practice, you will become more comfortable talking about what you read and picking out the main ideas. There will also be a focus on vocabulary. Check our website for this quarter's book selection.

Prerequisite: ESL 234

ESL 222* Following the News

You will develop your English in a small group while discussing the news and world events. Each week you will be assigned a different news story to read and you may also be asked to bring in news stories of your own for class discussion. Through oral and written practice, you will become more comfortable explaining what you read and responding to the main ideas.

Prerequisite: ESL 244

* Formerly ESL 224