COURSE DESCRIPTION (De Anza College Catalog)

This course explores visual imagery throughout the world for the purpose of developing visual literacy skills. Works of art will be studied by means of formal analysis, medium, the social experiences of artists, the function of works of art in their original environment, and comparison of works from different cultures. Primary emphasis will be on paintings, graphic works, and sculpture.

Recommended: English Writing 1A or English as a Second Language 5

This is a hybrid lecture course combining in-class and online learning. Methods include in-class lectures, along with online written assignments, videos, discussion boards, and readings.

STUDENT LEARNING OUTCOME STATEMENTS (SLO)

- Students will analyze the social experiences of artists, demonstrating how artists' relationships with their patrons was defining factor in the production of works of art.
- Students will demonstrate visual literacy and critical thinking skills by evaluating diverse scholarly perspectives when interpreting works of art.
- Students will investigate different techniques utilized in the production of works of art through written analysis based on firsthand evaluation of art objects in local collections.

COMPUTER ACCESS REQUIRED

The online portion of this course is delivered through the Learning Management System (LMS) called Canvas and the web conferencing platform called Zoom. Students are required to have computer access with high speed internet. Basic computer literacy is required. It is the student's responsibility to obtain additional training if they are unable to perform computer functions required to take online tests, submit online assignments or participate on discussions boards. Computer/internet issues or the inability to perform computer functions required by an online course are not excuses for missed deadlines.

VIRTUAL OFFICE HOURS

I am available once a week for online synchronous Office Hours using Zoom as listed above in the syllabus header. Please contact me by email to schedule an appointment outside of my office hours

CLASS ANNOUNCEMENTS

Once the quarter has started, class announcements are distributed via Canvas Announcements and Canvas email. Please ensure the email address provided to the college is one you check regularly. I check email Monday through Friday, generally between 10AM to 6PM.

PARTICIPATION AND ATTENDANCE

Regular and punctual attendance is expected of each student. It is essential that students attend class to succeed in this course. If a student misses 2 consecutive classes, he/she will be contacted by the instructor. However, it is the student's responsibility to drop the course if he/she no longer desires to be enrolled.

If you are sick, have symptoms or tested positive for COVID-19 do not attend class. Please contact me by email so I am aware of your intention to continue the course; this is not an excused absence. Excused absences require documentation such as a doctor's excuse. If you need to leave early from class, notify me before class or it will count as an unexcused absence.

DISRUPTIVE BEHAVIOR

The college will enforce all policies and procedures set forth in the Standards of Student Conduct (see college catalog). Any student disrupting the course will be contacted by the instructor, and depending on the severity reported to the De Anza College Maxient for resolution. A basic definition of a disruptive person is one, who through his/her behavior, speech or actions, interferes with academic activity.

ONLINE ETIQUETTE

Understanding the speaker whether instructor or classmate without visual and auditory clues from the person is often a challenge in the online classroom. The guidelines below provide some basic rules about communication in an online format to avoid this challenge. In addition to these basics, please remember that this is an academic course with a far wider reach than a face-to-face classroom. It is not the same as communicating with friends via social media, nor is it equivalent to sending text messages to friends or colleagues.

The following guidelines will help you reduce online miscommunications in this course.

Be Professional. Your coursework is more than learning facts; you are preparing for a career. You are learning to interact with your fellow course participants as you would in your future professional life. Your conduct in this course should reflect this and your communication should follow standard rules for grammar and spelling and be clear, concise and intelligent. Avoid personal attacks and offensive language.

Have Opinions. Everyone is entitled to have an opinion. In discussion forums, everyone is encouraged to share them.

Respect Disagreement. People have the right to disagree with you. However, disagreement should never be personal. Online discussions are a means to share ideas and practice the skill of persuasion. Persuasive speech cannot be achieved with hurtful, hateful or inappropriate language. Review your posts before you publish and reread them for unintended meanings.

Ask Questions. Cultural influences can influence communication in terms of phrasing and word choice. The lack of visual and auditory clues may affect meaning, as well. Before jumping to conclusions, ask for clarification.

Be Forgiving. For the majority of participants, online communication is straight forward; however, sometimes unintended meanings are conveyed.
